HOW
CREATE OPPORTUNITIES. REBUILD LIVES.

Y.O.U.
YOUTH & OPPORTUNITY UNITED

Generation F-Stop

Generation F-Stop combines photography with journal writing as an empowering way for students to identify, examine and visually articulate relevant issues shaping their lives. Using digital cameras, youth participants learned how to evaluate content and creatively express their ideas while keeping journal records of their experience.

The Evanston Art Center recognizes the unique potential that art has to spark creativity, support educational growth, and promote personal development in people of all ages and backgrounds.

This program is in partnership with the families of HOW (Housing Opportunities for Women) and YOU (Youth & Opportunity United).

HOW's mission is to empower individuals and families to break the cycle of poverty and homelessness through the use of prevention strategies, affordable housing, and individualized support services. HOW operates under the Housing First Model, which ensures that homeless individuals are housed as quickly as possible, and then provided with tools for success and self-sufficiency.

Y.O.U. closes the opportunity gap by preparing youth for post-secondary and life success. We partner with families, schools, and the community to provide academic, social, and emotional support to 1,600 youth and their families each year, ensuring every young person has the opportunity to succeed
